Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

1. Amendments filed on December 16, 2005 for Application No. 10/099643 regarding amended claims 21 and 27 have been acknowledged by the Examiner. corrected drawings of Fig. 1 have been review, are in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d), and can be entered.

Response to Arguments

2. Applicant's arguments, see p. 5, filed December 16, 2005, with respect to the rejection(s) of claim 21 have been fully considered. On p. 5, the Applicant argues that Dutta does not disclose the assigning of the most recent used function to a secondary key to allow for quick re-access to the that particular function; however, that limitation is not claimed within claim 21. However, the Applicant claims a first and second set of actuable elements that have an associated subset of functions, which is different from the arguments of the Applicant. In turn, arguments are not persuasive.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) The invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claims 21-32 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Dutta et al. (US 6724370).

Regarding claims 21 and 27, Dutta, who teaches a customizable data processing system, expressively discloses a user interface 302 or 502 (touch-screen, Figs. 3-5) including a plurality of actuable input elements 504 (customizable keyboard) wherein each input element is adapted for association with at least one of a plurality of functions associated with a document processing operation, such as the input of alphanumeric data (col. 3, lines 57-65). Additionally, Dutta discloses a first and second set of actuable elements with corresponding functions (col. 3, lines 50-67 consisting of characters and function keys). Dutta also discloses the means adapted for receiving selection data representatives of a selected subset of the plurality of functions associated with the document processing operation by way of the processor 204 (col. 3, lines 12-20). Dutta discloses selected subset of functions as including data entry (being that the system is a data entry device) and also configuration/customization of the virtual keyboard (col. 4, lines 13-29). The sensing means that is adapted for sensing the actuation is inherent, because touch-screen keypads have a means of detecting the pressure applied by a finger or stylus in order to actuate the keys (col. 3, lines 42-49).

Regarding claims 22 and 28, Dutta discloses selection data is defined by at least a frequently invoked document processing operation request, such as a customized keyboard that is utilized several times by a particular user (col. 3, lines 20-22).

Regarding claims 23 and 29, Dutta discloses an indicator as being a color (col. 4, lines 30-34).

Regarding claims 24 and 30, Dutta discloses teaches a keypad (input element) wherein the indicating arrangement comprises at least one virtual key (one of the keys on the touch-screen i.e. "Menu", "Applications", etc. as illustrated in Figs. 1-10).

Regarding claims 25 and 31, Dutta discloses the virtual key as being located apart from the actuable input elements 304 as illustrated in Fig. 5.

Regarding claims 26 and 32, Dutta discloses actuable input elements 304 are alphanumeric input elements (Figs. 3-5).

Conclusion

4. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
